Remark's Thermal Kit to Screen Members and Guests for High Temperature Symptoms

LAS VEGAS, Aug. 6, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Remark Holdings, Inc. (NASDAQ: MARK), a diversified global technology company with leading artificial intelligence ("AI") solutions and digital media properties, today announced a deal to install its leading Remark AI-powered Bio-Safety Thermal Kits at Zero Bond, a private membership urban lodge and social work place in New York City.

"We are pleased to see our AI solutions implemented by Zero Bond, helping to restore normalcy and enhanced safety practices in a post-COVID world," noted Kai-Shing Tao, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Remark Holdings. "Scott has a long history of success as a leading global taste-maker and trendsetter, creating diverse social communities by bringing together artists, business leaders, fashion setters, and technology innovators."

"Zero Bond, upon opening, is committed to being the safest public space in New York City for our members, employees, vendors, and greater community," says Scott Sartiano, founder of Zero Bond. "Remark's AI-powered solutions allow for a seamless customer experience where visitors are discreetly scanned for high temperature readings without intrusive human contact. The technology will also help us enhance member experiences via managing members' preferences while inside Zero Bond; enabling us to not only provide the safest environment, but one where we can seamlessly cater to our members' impulses and aspirations."

Remark's AI-powered Bio-Safety Thermal Kit is an all-inclusive solution that allows for fast, touch-free scanning of multiple persons (up to 120 people per minute) as they enter through established access points. The system instantly and quietly alerts staff of any person with a skin temperature that suggests a higher-than-normal temperature, allowing site personnel to conduct a secondary temperature check.
